THE DIOCESE OF TRENTON is committed to the initiatives outlined in the U.S. Bishop's Charter for the Protection of Children and Young People and to its own policies and guidelines in regard to the reporting and investigation of sexual abuse allegations involving minors.

If you have been sexually abused as a minor by a member of the clergy or anyone representing the Catholic Church, or if you know of someone who was, you can report that abuse through the diocesan ABUSE HOTLINE: 1-888-296-2965 or via e-mail at abuse-line@dioceseoftrenton.org.

The Diocese of Trenton reports any allegations of sexual abuse to the appropriate law enforcement agencies. Anyone with an allegation is also encouraged to provide that information to local law enforcement authorities.

Dear Parish Family-

Last Thursday morning I received a call from a deacon looking for a priest. He said he had called about a dozen parishes and no one was available; he wanted to know if I knew what was going on that so many priests were unavailable! I laughed and told him we were all away at the annual 3 day Priest Convocation with the Bishop, I guess he forgot! It was a good three days, in truth not even three days. We don't leave until Tuesday evening and return the late afternoon on Thursday. The speaker was a Capuchin Franciscan who is a pastor in Philadelphia and his talks were excellent.

The Bishop gives a 'State of the Diocese' address each year at the convocation. Much of what he speaks of is already accessible on the diocesan website. The Bishop asked for comment on the Synod and the Eucharistic Revival. It seems both have received tepid response from the lay people of the Diocese. Many priests spoke of parishioners who really don't know much about the Synod or even what a Synod is. The following day the Bishop was at my table and a lively discussion ensued about the Synod. The Bishop turned to me and noted that our parish did a very good job bringing people together for the parish phase; we had the second largest turnout of any parish in the Diocese!

We priests know what a Synod is, but Pope Francis has re-structured the Synod process. Traditionally, from the apostolic times to our own time, Synods have been gatherings of bishops to advise the pope on matters of importance. Bishops are by nature apostles and successors of the apostles. The pope is Peter and so the apostles gather around Peter to advise and assist him. Synods fell out of favor in the West, largely replaced by Ecumenical Councils on the Universal Church level and by Plenary Councils on the national level. Pope St. Paul VI revived the Synod model after Vatican II. Synods are essentially advisory bodies to the pope, and they do not have teaching authority like an Ecumenical Council (think Vatican II). While some in the media have portrayed the upcoming Synod as a type of 'Vatican III', that is way overblown and ridiculous. Synods are important deliberative bodies. Pope Francis has opened the Synod agenda to the whole Church through meetings held at parish, diocese, and national levels. Additionally, he has opened the Synod Assembly to lay people and even non-Catholics and non-Christians. The Catholic lay members have been given equal voting rights with the bishops. The non-Catholic participants can offer advice, suggestions, and participate in the discussions, but cannot vote. This is an innovation.

Bishop O'Connell stressed that Pope Francis wishes to develop a Church that listens more and talks less. He wishes for a listening Church, and this is the central aim of the Synod on Synodality. The bishop expressed a desire to lower expectations for the coming Synod. Media outlets are promoting agendas for change in doctrine, dogma and discipline. No doubt the high secular media influence is a concern for Pope Francis, since he has decided that the meetings will take place without media presence to allow participants to freely express their thoughts without undue media pressure. As the Holy Father reminded the whole Church last week, the Synod is under the influence of the Holy Spirit. The Holy Father's many collaborators have been saying that expectations for change are too high, and changing doctrine, dogma, and discipline are not on the agenda. Synods do not have the power to change those and frankly neither does the pope; he is bound by Holy Scripture, the words of the Savior, and the handed-down tradition. He cannot change what Christ has commanded, the apostles handed on and the fathers of the Church have taught, Ecumenical Councils have taught and prior popes have decreed. We can all do a little more listening though, and that would be a good thing.

Our role is to pray for the success of the Synod and that the participants allow themselves to be open to the docility of the Holy Spirit. While, quite literally, everyone wants to know the outcome, only the Holy Spirit knows that and we will not know until after the close of the Synod in the Fall of 2024 when the pope issues his Apostolic Letter accepting or rejecting the advice he has been given.

From the sublime to the mundane, roofing work began on the Church last week and is expected to run through January of 2024. The target date for conclusion is before Christmas but depends on weather. Monday it rained, so no work commenced. During the re-roofing, the Church will be closed Monday through Friday. All Masses and other services including funerals will be in Gonzaga Hall (the Old Church). Private prayer will be available in Gonzaga Hall with access through the parish office.

Prayer for the Synod on Synodality

We stand before You, Holy Spirit, as we gather together in Your name. With You alone to guide us, make Yourself at home in our hearts: Teach us the way we must go and how we are to pursue it. We are weak and sinful; do not let us promote disorder. Do not let ignorance lead us down the wrong path nor partiality influence our actions. Let us find in You our unity so that we may journey together to eternal life and not stray from the way of truth and what is right. All this we ask of You, who are at work in every place and time, in the communion of the Father and the Son, forever and ever. Amen.

Prayer to St. Michael

Saint Michael, the Archangel, defend us in battle, be our defense against the wickedness and snares of the devil. May God rebuke him, we humbly pray; and do thou, O Prince of the heavenly host, by the power of God, thrust into Hell Satan and the other evil spirits who prowl about the world for the ruin of souls. Amen

Christian Book Study—Men and women have enriched their Journey of Faith by participating in a Small Group, such as the CHRISTIAN BOOK STUDY. At our first meeting, on September 5th-we learned JESUS IS THE FIRST AND GREATEST SACRAMENT! What? We learned in Catechism there are 7 Sacraments. Rev. Stravinskas explained this TRUTH. And...that's only one step further in our journey of faith. There's more to come. Our group meets on the first and third Tuesday of the month, at 10am in the parish office. TO JOIN: purchase "Understanding the Sacraments: A Guide for Prayer and Study" by Rev. Peter Stravinskas. We'd love to have you join us at our next Tuesday meeting.

EUCCHARISTIC REVIVAL – Cause: A survey in the last few years found that only 31% of Catholics believe the Church's teaching on the Real Presence in the Eucharist. Mission: To renew the Church by enkindling a living relationship with the Lord Jesus Christ in the Holy Eucharist. Vision: To inspire a movement of Catholics across the United States who are healed, converted, formed, and unified by an encounter with Jesus in the Eucharist—and who are then sent out on mission “for the life of the world.”
